To Whom It May Concern:

I am pleased to write a reference letter for Mr. Harry Dorvilier, as he has provided support for my Cross-Cultural Internship Program since 2010. He has accepted students from my program to perform enriching summer internships at his company.

These students come from prestigious universities in Asia and have garnered useful experience under Mr. Harry's tutelage. These interns have learnt how to handle accounts, gained valuable knowledge about the healthcare system in the United States and picked up skills in administration.

He also frequently gave helpful side lectures about healthcare work and dispensed important life lessons to the students. This has reinforced the skills that they have attained over their internship.

The students were happy to work for him and have given positive feedback about their experience at his workplace.

If you have any questions, feel free to reach me via email ekay@fusia.net.

Sincerely yours,
